THE MINTIRE ESTATE

There is No Limitation for Attacking a Will.

The appeal was dismissed in the court in general term yesterday in the matter of the estate of David McIntire, and the cause remanded to the probate court, the opinion being delivered by Justice Merrick. This being delivered by Justice Merrick. This was an appeal from the order of the probate court directing issues to be sent up for trial on a caveat to the will. David McIntire died in April, 1884, and a few days afterward a will was propounded, proven, and letters granted. Fifteen months afterward the sole surviving brother filed a caveat to the will, on which the probate court directed issues to be framed for trial. The propounder of the will appealed from this order on the ground that the probate court had not now this power, and that, if it had, the caveater had been guilty of laches. The court held that the court was possessed of full power, and that there is no limitation for attacking a will.

Laid to Rest at Mount Olivet.

The funeral of the late Nicholas Callan took place yesterday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Matthew's Church. The attendance was large, and was composed chiefly of old residents. The Oldest Inhabitants' Society attended in a body. A very handsome cross of beautiful white roses rested on the top of the casket. Cel. James G. Berret and many well-known citteens occupied seats in the church. Rev. Father Chapolle said a requiem mass, and was assisted by Rev. Father Mackin. The remains were conveyed to the hearse by the two sons and the nephews of the decessed. The Oldest Inhabitants' Society furnished the honary pallobearers, as follows: J. A. Wineberger, J. G. Broff, James Pilling, T. A. McLeughlin, Charles H. Trunnell, M. V. Buckey, and P. A. Byrne. The interment was made in Mount Olivet Cemetery. Laid to Rest at Mount Olivet.

PERHAPS no local disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than useal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most distressing, nauseous, and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radioal cures of chronic catarrh by any of the multi-de of modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising.

Emancipation Celebration. The Philomathian Literary Society of the Second Baptist Church will, on Wednesday Second Baptist Church will, on Wednesday evening, celebrate the emancipation of the Cuban slaves at the Lincoin Memorial Congregational Church. By a recent edict of the queen of Spain over 250,000 negro slaves were freed on the island of Cuba, Invitations to attend the meeting have been sont to the Spanish legation and other diplomats in this city, the ministers of the city, President Cleveland, commissioners of the District, and other distinguished citizens. The oration will be delivered by Col. George W. Williams, the cofored historian. There will be other interesting services.

Reckless and Dangerous Driving. Mrs. Evans, of Fauquier county, Va., yester-day had a narrow escape from injury as the result of reckless driving of a man in the emresult of reckless driving of a man in the em-ploy of a grocer named Keefe. The lady is a sister of the late Mrs. John T. Given, and was here attending the funeral of the latter. As she was crossing at the corner of Tenth and I streets, leading a little child, the horse came toward them at a rapid rate. The lady gave the child a push sufficient to send the child beyond the wheels while she managed to escape herself. The driver paid little atten-tion to the circumstance and drove rapidly away.

News of Troubles With Strikers in the West Overcomes the Strong Under-tone in Stocks. New York, Nov. 8 .- The news affecting the stock market to-day was meager, but th reports of the troubles with the strikers in the west finally overcome the strong undertone which has been a feature of the market for some days past. The feeling in the early mornsome days past. The feeling in the early morning was very nopeful, and some slight advances were made after a firm to strong opening, but the hears made the most of the unitary or the advices, and by persistent haramering closed most of the service list at net losses for the day. The principal feature of the day was the strength shown by Norfolk and Western preterred, which retained most of the advance until the close. Jersey Central also was notably strong in the morning, and closed with a net advance.

The market exhibited some feverishness, but loward the close became dull and comparatively steady.
